CONDOLENCE MESSAGE

TO THE ANYAEHIE DYNASTY OF NNANANO NKWERRE COMMUNITY

We share the grief of all the members of the ANYAEHIE Dynasty of Nnanano Nkwerre Autonomous Community, and indeed of the entire people of Nkwerre Ancient Kingdom, on the demise of His Royal Highness, Eze Ngozi Gabriel Anyaehie, Imenyi I, the first son of a legend, a sage, a colossus, and an iconic figure of our time, Chief John Richard Anyaehie, Agbawo Dike Izu of Nkwerre.

The news of the demise of Enyioha, as he was fondly known, shook the very foundation of the entire Nkwerre town, and made us speechless and without a doubt, raffled us to a state of shock and disbelief.

We wish to use this opportunity to extend our heartfelt condolences to the immediate and extended families of Eze Ngozi Anyaehie, Imenyi of Nnanano Nkwerre:- Chimdi, Amarachi, Nkeiru, Dora, Elizabeth, Barr. Nnamdi, Anyiam, Ndidi, Barr. Chinedu, Emeka, Prof. Bond, etc.

Enyioha was indeed a charismatic community leader, a good and peace loving Nkwerre man. It is unfortunate he had very little time to show his love and commitment to his community, and indeed Nkwerre as a whole, since he was crowned the traditional ruler of Nnanano Nkwerre Autonomous Community.

As human beings, we may be tempted to speculate as to the cause of his untimely demise, but as Christians, we should accept without questioning, the will of the author and finisher of our lifes, as mere mortals, we are destined to go this way. May the soul of Enyioha, Eze Imenyi, through the mercy of God, rest in perfect peace.

Please accept my family's condolences.

Chief Sir. Nze Felix Ogbonah,
(Ugogbuo)
