Tribute To a Great Man... HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS, EZE NGOZI ANYAEHIE

I can't believe I'm writing a tribute to Enyioha as we fondly call you. The news of your death came to me as a rude shock. You attended my son's wedding in Abuja, looking your boisterous self; little did I know that you were already battling with an ailment.

I saw you again in Owerri, a few weeks before you travelled to the United Kingdom for treatment. I never knew that was the last time I'd see you.

Chai! Enyioha, it's so difficult to write a tribute to you. I can't believe you are no more - not even a word for your lovely Children. Oh death!

Eze Imenyi, it is well with your soul; I know you are in a better place. It is well with your children. They will continue to make you and their late sweet mother, Nkechi, proud. God in heaven shall watch over them.

Gaa ije gi nke oma!

Good night, great man!
