

A TRIBUTE TO MY DEAR HUSBAND

The day darkness befell me in the morning. A day I will never forget.

My dearest, your Royal Highness Eze Ngozi Gabriel Anyaehie, Imenyi of Nnanano, the love of my life. You were the best of the best husband any woman would wish for. You broke my heart and life will never be the same. You are a reflection of your name "Ngozi Enyioha", You were a great husband and father to your children and wider scope. Born a prince and died a king but that did not make you proud nor arrogant. You were humble, kind, patient, trusting and selfless. You were my friend, lover, adviser and husband.

We had dreams of growing old together strolling the street in front of our house here in London and at Nkwerre. We had dreams of touring and visiting towns and countries around. Enjoying my retirement together and now what do you want me to do?

I look around, scream your name and there is no response. No warm arms to hold me to say those passionate words. I find it difficult to say adieu my lovely and loving husband. It was a short and blissful five years reunion and marriage.

Sleep tight my beloved husband till we meet to part no more.

I love you!!!

Your Widow,
Ugoeze Adaobi Anyaehie
